

Digital Media – Creative Commons resources

Images, sounds and icons published under the Creative Commons license scheme are free to use resources, but their use is stipulated by their license type.

In this task you will visit the Creative Commons website and review the 6 types of license they offer and their use. You will then practise choosing a license type for a piece of your own work.

 Navigate to the following link:

 <https://creativecommons.org/about/cclicenses/>

 Scroll down the page and click on the different licence icons

 Familiarise yourself with the symbols and how they are combined to create licenses.

 Navigate to the following website:

 <https://chooser-beta.creativecommons.org/>
